It Isn't Necessary, But It Helps

To appreciate the babe in the manger,
it isn't necessary
... to remember when you were needy and neglected,
... or to count the times you cried and there was no one to dry your tears,
but it helps.

To realize what made the three wise men wise,
it isn't necessary
... to understand that love is a gift,
... or to see the chains that link
loving to giving,
but it helps.

To know the great joy of the Bethlehem shepherds,
it isn't necessary
... to trim a tree,
... to roast a turkey,
... to suddenly be hugged for no apparent reason,
... to feel secure and wanted,
but it helps.

To get so filled up with the real meaning of Christmas
you think you'll choke,
it isn't necessary
... to visit the Boys Ranch,
... or drop in at the Girls Villa,
but it helps — O how it helps!

Pinellas County Sheriff Don Genung, Chairman of the Villa Board of Trustees, was Master of Ceremonies.

Scenes From Dedication of

BARTOW — For a little while everything was “agua vista”, but rain failed to completely dampen ceremonies dedicating Buena Vista Villa as the newest residence building at the Florida Sheriffs Girls Villa. The rites were held on August 26 as one of the highlights of Bartow’s third annual Girls Villa Week.

Buena Vista Villa

Built at a cost of over $100,000, Buena Vista Villa doubles our capacity from 8 to 16 girls.

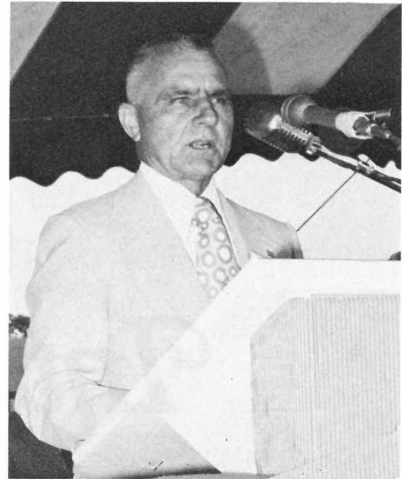

Refreshments on the rain splashed atrium ended dedication festivities.

Manatee County Sheriff Dick Weitzenfeld thanked Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Middleditch, of Bradenton, who gave $10,000 for Buena Vista Villa furnishings.

Polk County Sheriff Monroe Brannen welcomed the audience and special guests.

Rain sent dedication spectators scurrying for cover.

Visitors from the Boys Ranch included former Rancher Ronnie Williams and his wife and daughter.

Circuit Court Judge Oliver Green, of Bartow, delivered the dedication address.

Indian River County Sheriff Sam Joyce thanked Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jones, president and secretary of the Peebles Foundation, Vero Beach, for donating funds to build Buena Vista Villa.

Interior Vistas at Buena Vista

Because many years of planning and experience went into the building of Buena Vista Villa, newest residence cottage at the Florida Sheriffs Girls Villa, it is a model of comfort, convenience and efficiency. It's also a homey place, but the girls who live here are not pampered. They are required to learn basic domestic skills by doing their own laundry, cooking, baking and housework. These pictures were taken on August 26 during a public "open house" which preceded dedication ceremonies.

If our horses act unusually horsey, it's because they know how important they are.

This equine superiority complex is a sort of inherited thing that started back in 1958 when singer Elvis Presley and his manager, Col. Tom Parker, donated a pair of miniature ponies to the Ranch.

Those cute little devils were the first residents of the Ranch — nosing out the first boys by a few months — and ever since then gift horses and ponies have been coming to the Ranch by the hundreds from all over the state.

Our horse trailer has logged thousands of miles picking them up, and our boys have spent thousands of boy-hours grooming them, riding them — and yes, loving them.

Let's face it, horses are important in the success scheme of

We never say neigh to a gift horse

(If He Has No Strings Attached, Of Course)

the Boys Ranch.

Caring for them teaches boys responsibility.

Riding them is fun.

Entering them in horse shows is the best way we know to build up a boy's confidence and self-assurance.

We welcome them as gifts, but there is one problem . . . we can't possibly afford to keep all of the horses and ponies that are donated.

We try to maintain about 25 horses and ponies for the boys' pleasure and training, and we continually try to upgrade the quality of our herd. Consequently when a new horse is received, we let the boys try it, and if they like it better than one we already have, we keep the new one and sell another.

This enables us to limit the herd to a number we can afford to feed and care for properly; and the sale of excess horses helps the income of the Ranch.

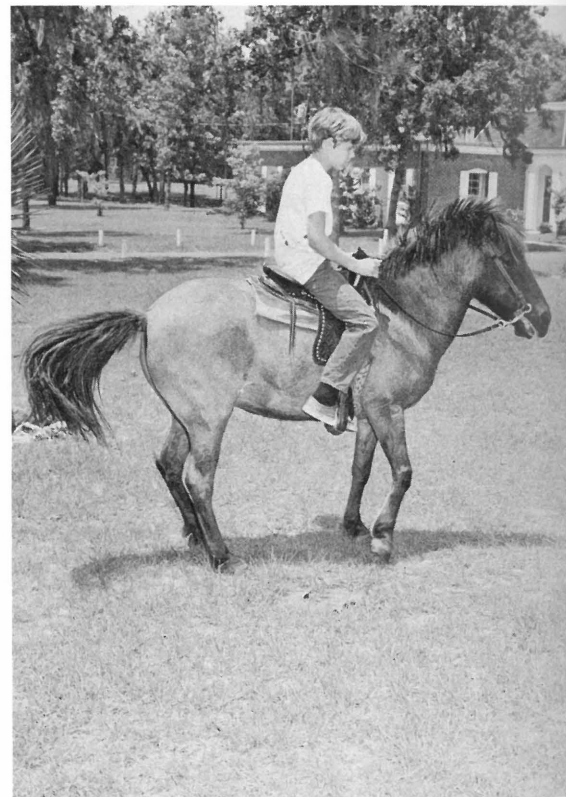

We can accept an animal only if the donor fully understands that the gift is complete and unconditional. The care and possible future disposition of the animal must be left to the discretion of the Ranch.

Due to limited space for stables and pasture, the Girls Villa will be able to keep only a small number of horses and ponies. Therefore, we cannot accept animals specifically designated for the Villa. Horses for the Villa will be provided from the Boys Ranch herd as they are needed, and to the extent that the Villa is able to properly care for them.

We do want and we do appreciate gift horses; and we never say neigh to them, as long as they come to us "with no strings attached."

The Boys Ranch horse trailer logs thousands of miles every year picking up gift horses in all parts of the state. The animals come in all sizes and colors, with just one thing in common: "no strings attached."

Hope springs eternal, even when a boy is on crutches. This one is looking at the daily schedule to see what sport he can participate in.

A "wheelie" is something you normally do on a bicycle or motorcycle by cruising along on the rear wheel with the front wheel off the ground — but not many people try it in a wheelchair. Well, like the editor said, there's that streak of daring running through the make up of most boys. . . .

Just Casting Around.....

The Rancher editor was casting around for something to write about when he happened to find these pictures in his files.

And then he got to wondering if there is some way to raise a boy without cuts, bruises and broken bones. If there is, he told himself, we haven't found it yet . . .

. . . but we're trying.

We preach safety, teach safety, think safety, dream safety and practice safety.

We supervise sports activities to cut down injuries.

We put adults in charge when boys are using tools, running machinery, working with livestock or riding horses.

We have a safety record worth bragging about.

And yet, we know that no matter how hard we try we will never be able to get rid of our supply of crutches, iodine, band-aids, wheelchairs and plaster of paris.

Injuries are bound to happen in an active program such as ours with its wide variety of outdoor work and recreation.

And then there's that streak of daring — that willingness to try anything once — running through the make up of most boys, and we wouldn't want to wipe that out entirely, even if we could.

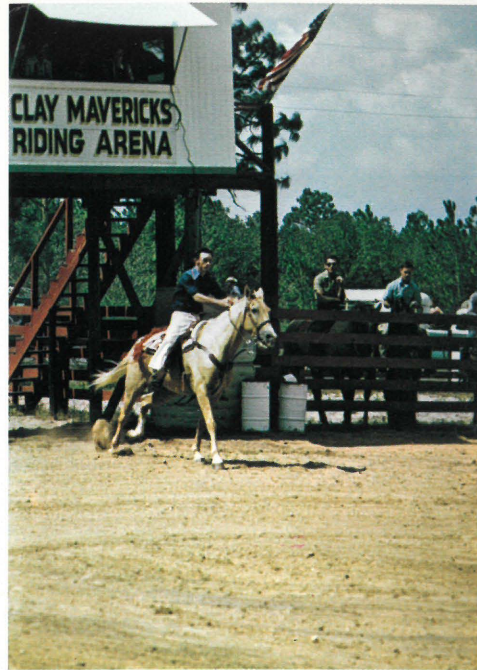

The best we can hope to do is put reasonable restraints on adventuresome spirits, without stunting the development of some future explorer, aerialist or astronaut.

Which boy had the broken leg? Our photographer said it was the one on the left, and the other one seemed to be just faking it for the fun of it.

From many areas of Florida and neighboring states the horsemen came, bringing their horses, horse trailers, tents, motor homes and travel trailers.

Wally Edwards is a former Rancher who still enjoys riding competition. When he's not entered in a horse show, he is a Lieutenant with the Polk County Sheriff's Department.

The opening ceremonies of a horse show are always very colorful as the various riding clubs pass in review.

Horses & Horsepower...

There are horses we keep in the old corral; and there are horses we keep under the hoods of our cars, trucks, buses, tractors and vans. Both are essential to the successful operation of the Boys Ranch. Both shared the spotlight in our 16th anniversary celebration October 5, 6 and 7.

The flesh and blood horses had their innings during a horse show staged by the Clay Mavericks, the hard working, generous Clay County riding club that built our arena.

The gas-powered horses came in for their share of attention during an "open house" which focused attention on the new Cameron Automotive Center where boys learn automotive re-

Arena events offered competition for riders of all sizes — fingerlings, small frys, powder puffs, seniors and Jack Bennys.

Use Them Now – And All Year

Although we distribute Boys Ranch-Girls Villa seals just prior to Christmas, they are designed for use throughout the year. Please use them during the holiday season, and afterward, on your letters and packages to help us publicize the Ranch and Villa.

Go Ahead and Lickum – They Have Stickum

We are using an improved type of gummed paper for our Boys Ranch-Girls Villa seals. The trouble is, it's so improved it doesn't look like gummed paper. The stickum on the back is invisible, but it's there. Just lickum and see.

WE WILL SEND YOU ADDITIONAL SEALS – FREE

Cameron Automotive Center is a modern "horsepower corral" equipped to service and repair practically anything that eats gas — from a 60-passenger bus to a 3-horsepower lawnmower.

In the Spotlight During 16th Birthday Party at Boys Ranch

pair skills while keeping the Ranch vehicles in tip-top running order.

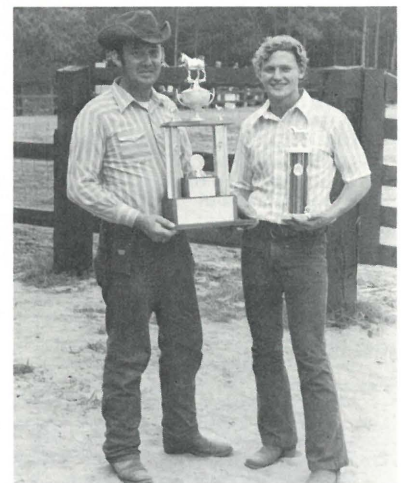

A moonlight trail ride was the first event on the program as riders began arriving from many areas of Florida and neighboring states. A large number of persons camped near the arena. They were greeted with a roaring campfire and a large pot of chicken pilau.

The traditional anniversary barbecue was served on the banks of the Suwannee River at noon, October 6; and an outdoor worship service was held in the arena on Sunday, October 7.

Jimmy Nathey (right) was the winner of the Carlton E. Tweed Memorial Horsemanship Trophy presented each year to the Rancher who exhibits the greatest skill in horse care and handling. Gary Avery (left), Boys Ranch Farm Manager, made the presentation.

The barbecue was prepared by the Boys Ranch and served by service club members from Live Oak.

Villa Gets "Go" Light For Administration Building

BARTOW — Polk County Sheriff Monroe Brannen announced that the Florida Sheriffs Girls Villa has leased three more acres of land and can now go ahead with plans for a much needed administration building.

He said the land, now occupied by an abandoned museum, was acquired from the Polk County Commission on the same basis as the original Villa site of 50 acres — a 99-year lease.

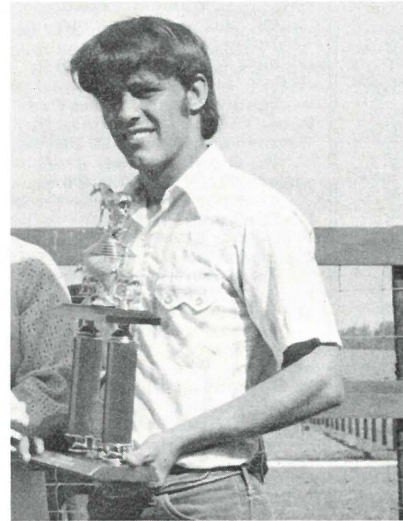

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Towey, of St. Petersburg, who donated a medical and dental clinic to the Florida Sheriffs Boys Ranch, have pledged $125,000 toward the proposed administration building from the James P. Towey foundation.

Villa administrative offices are presently located in make-shift quarters inside the old museum building.

Model Launching Soon — Later the Moon

It's possible there is a future astronaut in this group which got together at the Arts and Crafts Building to organize the Boys Ranch Rocket Club. Arts and Crafts supervisor Harvey Bues (standing, second from left) is supervising this new activity. The building of launching facilities is the first project. Next comes the launching of rockets built by the club members.

Winning Is Howard Kornegay's Specialty

Last year Rancher Howard Kornegay won the Carleton F. Tweed Memorial Horsemanship Award at the Boys Ranch. This year he won an even more important prize when he claimed the former Debbie Chandler, of Live Oak, as his bride. The wedding was held in the Boys Ranch Chapel on August 24, and was followed by a reception in the Ranch cafeteria.
