A BOYS RANCH PRAYER FOR THOSE WHO CARE

We have not seen their faces,
We have not touched their hands.
They are in a thousand places,
There are some in far off lands.
But we have felt their love, Lord,
They have shown us that they care;
They have sent us gifts and kindly thoughts,
Remembered us in prayer.
We're grateful for their kindness, Lord.
And this we know is true:
Whatever they have done for us,
They have also done for you.
So give them peace and joy, Lord,
As Christmas time draws near;
Please touch their lives with blessings now,
And in the coming year.

Nationally famous country and western singers George Jones and Tammy Wynette are getting to be Girls Villa regulars. First they put on a big benefit show for the Villa ground breaking. Now they have two guitar shaped gold fish ponds at their Old Plantation Music Park in Polk County for people to throw money into. Money collected in the blue pond goes to the Boys Ranch and money thrown in the pink pond is for the Girls Villa. Inspecting the arrangement are (right to left) Villa Resident Director Bob Haag, Tammy and George, Polk County Sheriff Monroe Brannen and contractor Joe Morton who built the ponds.

Dreams are O. K.

But the real thing is better.

And things are getting better and better at the Florida Sheriffs Girls Villa, a home for needy and worthy girls sponsored by the Florida Sheriffs Association.

One year ago this "little sister" of the famous Boys Ranch was partly a dream, partly plans on paper, and partly a budding bank account.

A lot has happened since then, and now it is beginning to look like the real thing.

Although the idea and the dreams started years ago, the Villa was not chartered by the Sheriffs Association until January 7, 1970.

Next came the building site — a real sweetheart of a location at Peace River Park, near Bartow, with 75 landscaped acres and three lakes. The trustees of the Villa acquired it through a 99-year lease on April 19, 1971, with a promise of more adjoining acreage within five years.

During the past summer Architect Les Pickett, of Bartow, was hired to design the first facilities.

Ground breaking rites were held on August 27, 1971, and Resident Director Bob Haag, a seasoned child care veteran with impressive professional credentials, established his residence there in a mobile home.

Record keeping and other administrative functions are still being handled at the Boys Ranch, but will gradually be transferred to the Villa. For the present, all gifts and inquiries for the Villa should be mailed to the Boys Ranch, Boys Ranch, Florida 32060.

Villa Administrator Harry Weaver said he expects construction to begin on the first facilities before the end of 1971. They will include a residence cottage for eight girls and a residence for the Director.

Weaver hopes to enroll the first girls by the middle of 1972; and he and Bob Haag are already working on admissions procedures.

Long range planning for program and facilities are also under way. The Villa, like the Boys Ranch, is supported entirely by voluntary contributions; and the pace of its future development will be determined by the success of fund raising efforts.

FIRST GIRLS EXPECTED IN 1972

The proper designation of legatee is as follows:

FLORIDA SHERIFFS BOYS RANCH FUND
 FLORIDA SHERIFFS GIRLS VILLA, Inc.

Florida's Lt. Governor, Tom Adams (left) was the principal speaker at the Villa ground breaking. He's seen talking to U. S. Senator Lawton Chiles, a Polk County native.

Girls Villa Resident Director Bob Haag is supervising a one-man staff for the time being — himself. He's doing everything from making speeches and consulting with architects to mowing 50 acres of grass.

Ted Hable, Vice President of the Independent Telephone Pioneer Association, presented Sheriff Don Genung with keys to a pick-up during ground breaking day activities.

The first girls to live at Girls Villa are the Resident Director's wife and daughter, Elva Jean and Kristin Haag.

Dear santa:

Because you have always been so generous with us, we hesitated to write this letter. But, you know how it is. We are always in need of something here at the Ranch.

And now we have our "little sister" institution to think about too. The Florida Sheriffs Girls Villa is getting off to a good start, but all they have down there in Bartow at the present time is a 75-acre building site and some fresh, clean blueprints. Anything you can do for them will be greatly appreciated.

You name it; we need it.

At the Boys Ranch, as always, our number one need is for operating funds - plain, old, everyday American dollars for things like food, clothing and shelter.

And we also need:

More residence cottages, at $100,000 per cottage;
Track and football facilities, plus lighting for night games at an estimated cost of $35,000;

More staff members, particularly in the social service office, now that we are licensed as an adoption agency;

New streets and street improvements at an estimated cost of $125,000.

That's a big, expensive list Santa, and we know you can't possibly bring us all those things. But, you have many friends in all walks of life, and perhaps - well, perhaps you can spread the word about the Ranch and the Villa during your travels. Have a good trip and come to see us often. You're always welcome here because this is one place where it seems like Christmas any time of the year.

Sincerely yours,

The Boys and Staff

HERE'S HARRY

A newsletter from Harry K. Weaver, Executive Director of the Boys Ranch and the Girls Villa.

IS IT REALLY WORTH IT?

Raising boys is not an easy task.

We have our ups and downs, our good days and bad days, our victories and defeats, our flights of inspiration and our hours of dark despair.

There are times when we realize how fortunate we are to be part of this great adventure in human compassion.

And there are those other times—rare perhaps, but unavoidable—when we ask ourselves: "Is it really worth it?"

If I were asked this question, my thoughts would naturally turn to the many boys who have graduated from high school. . .the boys who have gone on to college. . .the boys who have learned a trade. . .the boys who have had successful careers in the military service. . .the boys who have married and established secure homes for themselves and their families. . .

Names and faces would tumble through my mind in fast succession. . . Joe. . .Dan. . .Pete. . .George. . .and especially Henry. Now there was a youngster who really needed a helping hand!

Henry was deserted by his father at an early age. His mother died a few years later. Then he went to live with an elderly relative, but that was a bad experience for both of them. His days were filled with dissension, and his nights with dreams of rebellion. He became completely incorrigible. He was on the verge of serious trouble when the Ranch took him in.

Fortunately, the Ranch was just what Henry needed. Knowing that someone cared about him made a tremendous difference. He was no longer at war with himself or the world around him. He adjusted well to his new environment, and began to explore his future potential.

Only one thing was missing. Out there in the world somewhere was the man who had deserted him. Blood ties are strong, and Henry thought about his father often. Perhaps there had been good reasons why his father had left . . .perhaps, if he could find his father, they could make a new start together—

He talked about it with staff members at the Ranch, and they agreed. Perhaps something could be done to reunite Henry and his father, but first the father would have to be found.

The Social Service Department at the Ranch began a search. Telephone calls were made. People were interviewed. Letters were written. And finally, one night there came a telephone call from a far western state. It was Henry's father. He had heard we were looking for him, and he quickly reassured us he wanted Henry.

We didn't give him an immediate answer, but it soon became obvious to our trained social workers that Henry and his father needed each other. The father had remarried and was a successful businessman. He was miserable with himself, and wanted to correct the mistakes of the past.

Eventually all details were worked out, and Henry flew west to live with his father. They have a solid, happy relationship today, and Henry will never have reason again to doubt that somebody cares.

Is it worth it?

Problems solved, lives salvaged, youngsters making productive and satisfying adjustments—in these things we find the answer to our question.

Yes, it is worth it. . .for those of us who are privileged to work at the Ranch. And, we hope it is also worth it for those who have sustained us year after year with their gifts and prayers.

At this season of the year when the "greatest gift of all" is uppermost in our minds, our gratitude flows strong toward all of the good friends who have made our efforts possible. May you reap many blessings in return for your thoughtfulness.

14 Years Old

Visitor Leonard Bowers, from Live Oak, and his mules, Pete and Repete, were "doing their thing" to drum up support for the Ranch.

The Florida Sheriffs Boys Ranch has never moved at a slow pace. And so, when its 14th Anniversary rolled around on October 2, what could have been more appropriate than a fast-paced horse show in the new $6,000 arena? Some 2,000 persons came to join in the fun; to enjoy the traditional Suwannee River barbecue; and to pause for brief dedication ceremonies expressing appreciation to the Clay Mavericks, Orange Park riding club. The Mavericks provided the funds, labor and materials for the new arena; and they have also contributed cash gifts totaling $15,000 over a period of years. With friends like this (and there are many) how can the Ranch do anything but keep movin' at a gallop?

OLD TIMERS RETURN

They came from many places, some with wives and children, one from as far away as Viet Nam. They watched old Boys Ranch movies, looked at new facilities, gabbed far into the night, presented their first annual "Our Friend Award" to Sheriffs Association Executive Director Carl Stauffer, and capped off the October 2-3 weekend with a chapel service featuring Former Rancher Robert Knight as the speaker. So went the successful Second Annual meeting of the Boys Ranch Alumni Association, and plans are now under way for the next one, on the first Saturday in May, 1972.
